Handicraft is about processing materials by hand with hand tools. The results can be helpful things or decorative things. The materials utilized in the product are natural, industrially processed or maybe recycled. The models of the product are ancient, revised traditional or fashionable. Handicraft is deeply frozen in society and contributes to preserving and sending traditions. In their product, crafters transfer an area of their cultural heritage in ideas, forms, materials and work ways, similarly as their own values, philosophy of life, fashion and self-image.

I will also add some functionalities like product page, login page, new arrivals, contact us details.

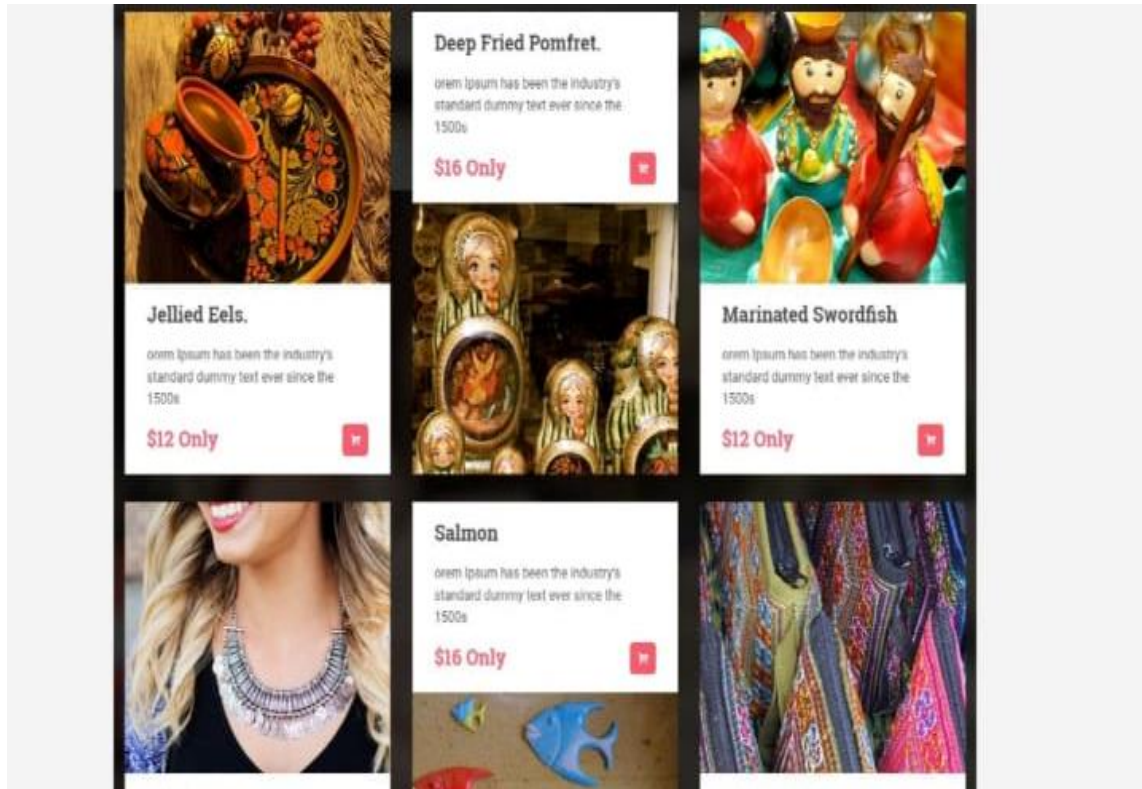

This is just a template of my website.

In this page I wrote about my website that what kind of functionality, some blogs about my website Our clients review on our products, some links, information, customer review. Small blogs about our Products and some information about them.

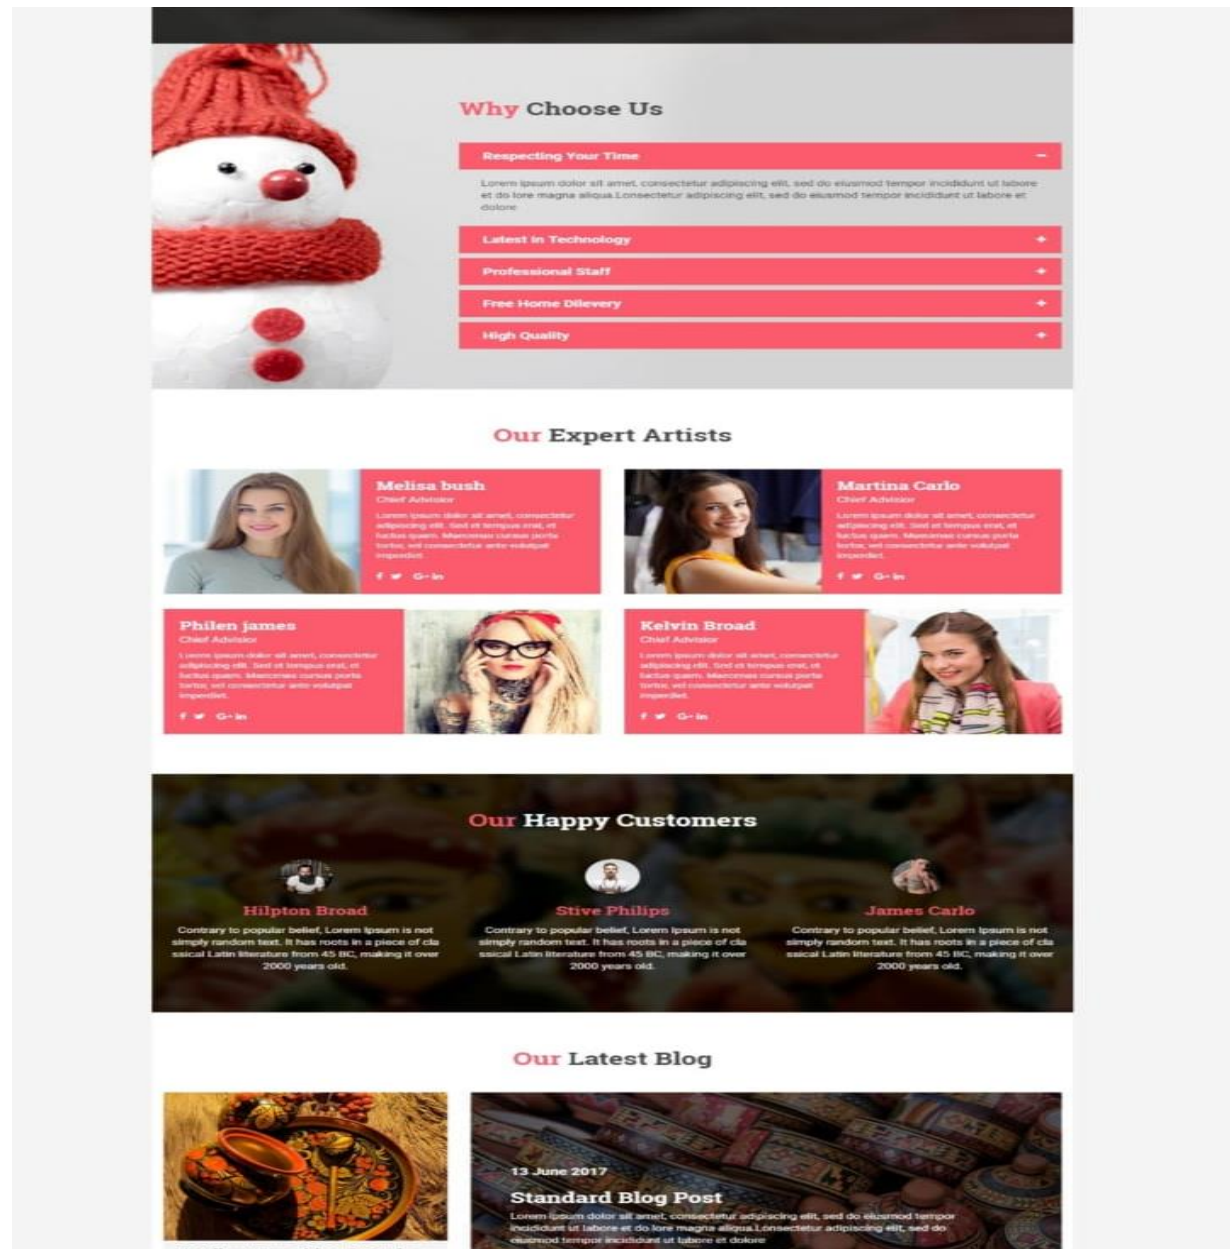

The image shows a website layout for 'Hand Made'. The header is dark with three circular profile pictures of team members: Hilpton Broad, Stive Philips, and James Carlo. Below each picture is a short bio. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column features three blog posts: 'Intelligent Transitions In Design', 'DIY Matisse', and 'Creating Art Spaces For Kids'. The right column features two blog posts: 'Standard Blog Post' and 'Illuminated Accessories'. Each blog post includes a featured image, a title, a date, a byline, a short excerpt, and a 'READ MORE' link. Below the blog posts is a section titled 'Our Clients' with five logos, each consisting of the words 'Hand Made' in a decorative script font. The footer is dark and contains a logo for 'HAND MADE', a disclaimer, contact information (address, phone, email), a list of links, and a section titled 'Our Information'.
